How you can help CGNE

CGNE is an all-volunteer group interested in food and learning more about the culinary arts. The Board relies on our members support through their willingness to volunteer. Whether you can give a few hours, a few weeks, or a few months, volunteering with us can be fun!

Share a skill, offer a class, lead a talk or tour: Let the program committee know that you would be willing to be a resource and we will partner with you to offer an opportunity to the membership.

Serve on a committee: Let the membership chair know that you are interested in promoting the work of the marketing, program or communications for the guild and we will gladly put you to work on a project.

Have a connection in the culinary community? Help us strengthen our ties to our culinary neighbors by getting them involved in our events.

Offer your home for an event: We hold events almost every month where our members offer their home for a more intimate setting. If you would like to offer your home as a potential gathering site, contact the Program chair.

Writing articles for our newsletter or for outside our organization: We always can use a review of an event we have held or something about what a small group of members are doing to be featured to the membership. Please contact the Marketing chair.

Take Photos for one of our events and post them on social media: If you love to take photos, we would love your help in documenting events and posting them on our website and through social media. Please contact Marketing chair.
